Standing on Liberty Ave in Union facing the Autumn Ridge Senior Apts. The tracks are paved over – on the left side of the picture in the dark area.

Standing just to the right of the tracks on Liberty Ave in Union. This wall shown is belongs to the Autumn Ridge Apts. There is approx 3 feet from the tracks to the wall.

Same scenario....just a little further away. (Autumn Ridge Apts in Union)

Sitting on the wall of the Autumn Ridge Senior Apts (seen on right side). As you can see, the tracks are right next to the tracks.

Once again, sitting on the same wall of the Senior Apts in Union, looking down at the track. You can see that the track is right next to the wall.

Sitting on the tracks again, facing away from the Autumn Ridge Senior Apartments, facing Liberty Ave in Union.

Looking directly at Liberty Ave in Union. You can see the tracks which the Dark car has just passed over. Liberty Avenue turns into Springfield Road, which leads directly into Route 22 West.

Standing on the tracks at Liberty Avenue in Union. If you look carefully, you will be able to see the tracks under the dirt in the middle. The poles are to the right of where the train would pass. The large evergreen tree is planted on the tracks.

Just follow the path of the tracks... you will see that they go directly in front of the parking lot. In fact, the white van would be demolished if the train were to pass by when this picture was taken.

Another view from the area at Autumn Ridge Senior Apartments on Liberty Avenue in Union.

A view from the other side of Liberty Ave., facing Autumn Ridge Senior Apartments. You can see the area in the middle where the tracks have been covered over by pavement.
